The African Regional Round (ARR) of the Jackson Moot Court Competition on WTO Law is only one month away! This year, the Round will be hosted in Accra, Ghana on 8-12 March 2023, by UPSA Law School. Over the years, individual and institutional donors have supported the African Round, making it accessible to students who otherwise would not afford to participate. This year, we hope as much financial support as possible can be offered to ensure that all the students who have registered are able to participate.

You can support the Round by making a personal contribution through this link: support the ARR.

You can read more about the structure of the Competition here.
