Call for Applications: Afronomicslaw Masterclass on Climate Finance, the Green Transition, and Sovereign Debt – Accra, Ghana

By:

Afronomicslaw

May 22, 2025

Call for Applications: Afronomicslaw Masterclass on Climate Finance, the Green Transition, and Sovereign Debt – Accra, Ghana

Training Dates: 28th to 29th July, 2025

Location: Accra, Ghana- University of Professional Studies, Accra (UPSA)

Join a Transformative Training at the Intersection of Climate Justice, Economic Sovereignty, and Global Governance. Afronomicslaw invites applications for an in-person Masterclass on climate finance and economic justice training taking place in Accra, Ghana. This highlevel, interdisciplinary program will bring changemakers from across Africa together to unpack the urgent challenges of climate finance, debt, and economic justice facing the continent. From unjust debt burdens to unequal climate financing frameworks, African countries are navigating a double emergency. This training will equip participants with the knowledge, tools, and networks to meaningfully engage in these global economic justice conversations – and to drive change at local, national, regional, and international levels.

On who should apply; what you will gain; and how to apply, read more here.

View online: Call for Applications: Afronomicslaw Masterclass on Climate Finance, the Green Transition, and Sovereign Debt – Accra, Ghana

Provided by Afronomicslaw