Webinar Invitation: Publishing in International Economic Law (I): Blogs and Newsletters by the International Economic Law Interest Group (IELIG) of the American Society of International Law

By:

Olabisi D. Akinkugbe

16 October, 2026

Please join the International Economic Law Interest Group (IELIG) of the American Society of International Law for this first event in a multi-part webinar series on publishing in international economic law. The event brings together editors, hosts, and contributors from leading international economic law blogs and newsletters. Panelists will share their experiences with these forms of publishing, including how they differ from traditional academic journals, how they reach and engage audiences, their potential impact, and how scholars can contribute.

Date: 19, October, 2026

Time: 11am - 12pm (EST)

Online Event: Register Here

Speakers

Olabisi D. Akinkugbe, Dalhousie University, Co-Founder, Afronomicslaw

Emilie Kerstens, Flint Global, Trade Experettes editorial team

Simon Lester, Founder, International Economic Law and Policy Blog

Mona Paulsen, London School of Economics, Substack author

Wolfgang Alschner, University of Ottawa (Moderator)

View online: Webinar Invitation: Publishing in International Economic Law (I): Blogs and Newsletters by the International Economic Law Interest Group (IELIG) of the American Society of International Law

Provided by Afronomicslaw