

Luwam Dirar is co-founder of EriLaws – an international access to justice project. Luwam holds a J.S.D. and LL.M. from Cornell Law School, and LL.B. from Asmara University. Previously, she was the legal advisor to the Minister of Justice of Eritrea and a law clerk for Justice Habteab Yemane of Eritrea. She has field research and/or teaching experience in Eastern and Southern African states. Her research interests include international law and international relations, international economic law, and human rights law.